Mouth as Bodies Were Recovered.

Hanna, Wyo., July 1.—Of 280 men who went into the Union Pacific by the explosion of black damp that occurred yesterday afternoon.

Most of the dead are Finlanders and negroes. Members of the re-sueing parties at noon to-day told pitiable stories of the scenes about the seventh level, which is as deep as it has been possible to penetrate.

SHOT WITHOUT WARNING.

Terrible Tragedy Enacted in Todd County Tuesday.

Bud Garth shot and killed Younger Watkins Tuesday afternoon.
The tragedy occurred at the home of Henry Watkins, brother of the dead man, a few miles north-west of Trenton. Garth and Watkins had some trouble a few days before.
On the day of the killing Garth went to Henry Watkins' house, and seeing Younger Watkins standing in the door fired upon him, it is said, without warning. Garth immediately disappeared, but later returned to the house and fired into a crowd which had gathered there.
The charge of shot cut the front brim off Mr. Thos. McElwain's hat.
Garth then fled and at last accounts was at large.

Watkins was a much respected young farmer and was about 20 years old.

Garth has served a term or two in the penitentiary and bears an unequivocal reputation.

TOM BARBOUR DEAD.

Expires at His Home of Throat Trouble.

News was received here yesterday of the death of Mr. T. E. Barbour, formerly of this city, which occured at his home at Pendleton, Ky.
Mr. Barbour was about 50 years old and is survived by a widow and one child, a grown daughter. For several years Mr. Barbour lived in Hopkinsville and traveled for an Evansville firm, of which he was a member. About two years ago he moved to Pendleton, his old home, a few miles east of Louisville. Death was due to some throat trouble, with which he had been afflicted for several years.

He was a most excellent man and had many friends in this section who will learn of his demise with much regret.

MASS OF SLATE

Crushed Life Out of Emplie "Liner" —Another Injured.

Burch Jackson, a colored coal miner, was crushed to death in the Empire Mines Tuesday afternoon by falling slate. Another miner, whose name was not learned, was also caught under the slate and badly injured, but will recover.
The men were loading coal on a small car used in the mine when the accident happened. Jackson was not so near the car as his companion and was caught immediately under the falling mass, death being instantaneous. His home was in Bellbuckle, Tenn., where his remains were shipped Wednesday. He was a man of family.

Noted Correspondent and Traveler

Few newspapers in the United States are able to command the service of as brilliant a corps of correspondents as that of The Chicago Record-Herald. Its choice of a Washington correspondent is indicative of the Record-Herald's policy of obtaining the best there is to be had. Walter Wellman, the well known authority on political subjects and one of the ablest writers of the day, acts in that capacity.
Mr. Wellman was born in Mentor, Ohio, Nov. 3, 1858. At the age of 14 he began his newspaper experience, establishing at that age a weekly paper in the little town of Sutton, Neb. In 1878 he returned to Ohio, and a year later established the Cincinnati Evening Post.
In 1884 he became the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Herald, and in 1892 he visited Central America and the West Indies, and located the landing place of Columbus on Watling's (San Salvador) Island, and marked the spot with a huge stone monument. Mr. Wellman's dashes to the north pole are well known. In 1894 he made the first of his two arctic voyages of exploration, reaching the latitude of 81 degrees northeast of Spitzber-gen. In 1898 he returned to the North, penetrated to Franz Joseph land, returning again to this country in 1899. On each trip he met with wonderful success in the discovery of new islands and lands, and brought back with him scientific data and information of great value to the American Geographical Society.

Mr. Wellman has been a voluminous writer for scientific magazines and popular periodicals. On returning from his arctic trips he resented his arctic adventures with The Record-Herald, and is now the Washington correspondent of that paper. His incisive discussion of contemporary affairs has given him a high place in the regard of statesmen and scientists of the day.

PENARRUBIA.

Generous Spanish Governor Honored by Filipinos and Commission.

The town of Patate, Abra province, will hereafter be known as Penarrubia, and thereby, says Manila American, inaugurate a new era in Spanish times in the Philippines.
There was a governor of the province of Abra named Penarrubia, who was appointed from Spain and when he took hold of the reins of government in his province he made things hum.
After he had served several years the rumpus broke the land and the people became poorer as the months went by. Gov. Penarrubia gratefully left the post for his own country, and even went far to himself to return and allow the people to use them. In this he saved many people from starving and kept more from being ruined.

With the advent of the Americans as occupant, like that of Orbel's, was gone and he returned to his native land. The natives whom he had benefitted in the time of their distress remembered his generous aid and came to adore him as a hero worthy of his deeds. They named many villages and streets after him, and they petitioned the civil commissioner in Manila to allow them a mark of respect and honor to change the name of the town of Patate and honor that of Gov. Penarrubia on one of the largest cities in the province and the most benefited by the "ex-governor's" goodness. The facts were laid before the commission, and an act was passed by the commission giving the desired permission for the people of the province of Abra to honor their former governor.

New Cure for Drunkenness.

According to Dr. Forbes Winslow the best cure for inebriety is "suggestion." "Throw the drunkard into a hypnotic state, give him cold water, "suggest" that it is "Scotch," and the medium believes." Do this often enough and a complete cure is effected, and the quoniam drunkard prefers spring water to beer. The influence thus exerted is a purely hypnotic one. The "suggestion" acts on the subconscious mind of the patient, and gradually becomes part of his nature. Hysterical people and those suffering from severe brain diseases are not amenable to the influences of suggestion.

Dwarf Race of Europe.

Prof. Arthur Thompson, writing in Knowledge, discusses the variation in height of different races.
Apart from the Lapps, whose height as a rule is about five feet, we have other races of man whose people inhabiting different parts of Europe. Quite 14 per cent. of the population of Sicily and Sardinia do not exceed 4 feet 11 inches in height.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They Are Hopkinsville People, and What They Say Is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press, published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing.
This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

John J. Hasford, cooper of 766 East Ninth street, says: "My back used to be so lame and sore at times that when I bent it was all I could do to straighten up again. The pains were always with me and I could not stand for any length of time without feeling them. I doctored at one time but did not obtain the slightest benefit. My attention was called to an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I determined to try them. I got a box at Thomas & Traher's drug store and after using them a few days could not help but notice a marked improvement in my condition. My health is better now than it has been for years. I give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills, and strongly recommend them to other sufferers."

talo, N. Y., sole agents for the

In Memoriam.

God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to take from among the living James Walter Meacham who died March 5, 1903. He was a four-year-old child, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Meacham, who live near Kelly's, Christian county, Ky.

Early in 1902 he joined the U. S.
Army and was sent with his regiment to the Philippine islands where he died. I am told he was a model soldier, true alike to his friends and country. The loyalty with which he served his country is demonstrated by his giving up father, mother, brothers, home and friends to offer himself a willing sacrifice upon the altar of his country. Like the good soldier that he was, to his flag and his God he consecrated himself; and when entreated to com-back, with his eyes turned to the stars and stripes I think his auswer was: "Entreat me not to leave thee to return from following after thee; thy people shall be my people and thy God my God." Grieve no one his mother, for today he is at rest in that land where warfare is unknown and arms are forever stacked. In his death the mother has lost a truly loving son, his brothers a true brother and his country a gallant defender.
May peace and rest be his.

"Only the ashes of the just, Smell sweet and blossom in the dust."

—R. A. C. July 1, 1903.

The Boss Worm Medicine.

H. P. Kumpke, Druggist, Leigh-town, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child, which was sick, and threw up all food, could retain nothing on its stomach. He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It is the boss worm medicine in the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at R. C.
Hardwick's.

Hotel Burned.

The big hotel of the Southern Pacific railroad, at Tucson, Ariz., was destroyed by fire.

About eighteen months ago Mr.
W. S. Manning, of Albany, N. Y., widely known in trade circles as the representative of the Albany Chemical Co., was suffering from a protracted attack of diarrhoea. "I tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," he says, and obtained immediate relief. I cheerfully recommend this medicine to those similarly afflicted." Sold by C. K. Wyly, druggist.

niture and undertaking, at Pyle's

PUTTING IT PLAINLY.

Too Young Man and His Future.

The old gentleman didn't want the young gentleman to marry the young lady, the young lady being the old gentleman's daughter.

So when the young gentleman came on the all-important mission, the old gentleman set his face against the young gentleman.

"No, sir," said he, with angry emphasis, "you cannot have my daughter."

"But I want her," urged the young gentleman, "and what is some consideration in the count, she wants me."

"That makes no difference, sir; you can't have her."

"That means, I presume, that you want me to give her up?" Exactly.

"The young gentleman," says the London Tit-Bits, took a hitch in himself.

"Do you think I am going to do it?" he asked, in a tone which did not strike the old gentleman as altogether submissive.

"I do."

"Well, no wonder you don't want me for a son-in-law if you think I'm that kind of a fellow. I don't blame you at all. I wouldn't have that kind of a son-in-law myself, even if somebody were going at it with me."

But, my dear sir, I'm not that kind.
I want your daughter for my wife, and I'm going to have her; she wants me for a husband. I have no objection to you as a father-in-law, and she rather admires you as a father.
Therefore I am warranted in joining the combination, and if you want to act ugly, why, we will, as dutiful children, humor your whim, and patch it up somehow with the friends of the family, who will be wanting to know what is the matter with you, anyhow. See?"

And the old gentleman had wisdom enough to understand the situation exactly.

EXCEPTION TO THE RULE.

The One Investment Jones Made

Which Proved Profitable.

Jones' wife has long had a serene contempt for Jones' idea as to the value of money. One of his many hobbies was books, and every penny Jones could spare, or thought he could spare, found its way into the palm of the bookseller. One day, says the New York Post, he started from home with $12 with which to purchase shirts, having been notified by Mrs. Jones that unless he returned with the shirts he need never again seek his home. Jones set out bravely, but in some strange way found himself in a book auction room within an hour, and without one shirt.

Two hours later all the shirt-matter was gone, and Jones was wondering how to get home with four books under his arm and explain away the shirt dealer. When he reached home he disposed the books upon the shelves, so that they should be lost, as they were, among their kith and kin.
One of the volumes was an obse-lete work of information, very quaint and certainly worth more than the 40 cents Jones paid for it. Fortune favored him in the matter of the shirts.
Mrs. Jones never once asked him whether he had bought them, and within a few days he managed to smuggle in six shirts, and the incident was apparently closed.

But one day an incident in the march of the world's events made the 40-cent book a treasure. Jones had at hand in eminently desirable shape the information only obtainable otherwise by ransacking a great library.
Promptly did Jones sit him down and write a long valuable article by the aid of the book, and in a fortnight he proudly laid a substantial check in Mrs. Jones' hand and told her how he had made it out of a half dozen shirts.

On the College President.

President Tucker, of Dartmouth college, is "telling one on himself." In fact, he avows that the entire story is a little too personal to be enjoyed.
Last summer he went to a Maine town for a short rest and boarded with a farmer who was in the habit of taking a few summer guests into his home to help "lift the mortgage." Some time ago the president received a letter from his former landlady asking for his patronage during the coming summer. "There are several little matters that I desire cleared should my family decide to pass the coming summer at your house," wrote President Tucker in reply. "We don't like the maid, Mary. Moreover, we don't think a sty so near the house is satisfying. And this is what he received in reply: 'My dear Mr. President, we don't no longer use you went away last September.'"

THAT COVERED SCALP.

When the Democrats of the Second district are offered the opportunity, they will take the scalp proffered Mr. Watterson by Executive Committee Meacham, albeit so barren a one that an Indian would not molest it—Louisville Times.

The executive committee who has come under the ban of the new leaders of the party in Louisville has for more than 12 years occupied a place in the party organization, county or state, without interruption. The so called honor is an expensive one, profitless and thankless. He has never asked for the position he holds but, has five times been elected by acclamation by the Democrats of his district without the asking. He is ready at any time to turn over the coveted honor (?) to any gentleman designated by the Louisville Courier-Journal, a paper that has called upon Gov. Beckham to undo the work of the last State Convention and, by swapping horses in the middle of a swollen stream, destroy every chance the party may yet have to win in the face of the Louisville split. This is from the Courier-Journal.

If Governor Beckham and the estimable gentlemen on the ticket of which he is the head, want to escape the full force of the most dangerous issue they will have to encounter in the coming campaign, they will reorganize their State Committee so as to put somebody in charge, who has at least a modicum of political wisdom and fidelity.

Gov. Beckham knows and Mr. Watterson knows that the gentlemen on the State ticket have no authority, if they had the disposition, to reorganize the state committee, even in order to gratify the demands of the Louisville machine. The offending gentleman from the Second District voted for the calling of a convention to reorganize the committee and to nominate a State ticket last fall. He stood alone in the position he then occupied, with not even a word of encouragement from the Courier-Journal, now so intent on securing the scalps of the committeemen, who were Democrats as far back as 1856, he weathered the storm once before when the Courier-Journal was denouncing him and his fellow members of the committee as "arch-heretics" and he will not lose any sleep this time on account of the "enemies he has made."

Beware of Ointments For Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In writing Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

There seems to be a decrease in the number of lynchings since the burning of rapists has become more common. From January 1 to July 1 there were only 19 lynchings in the United States, whereas there have been that many in one month in the past. Of these Louisiana had 2, Georgia 1, Florida 3, Mississippi 1, Missouri 1, Texas 1, Illinois 2, Wyoming 1, Pennsylvania 1, Delaware 1. Two of these, one in Wyoming and one in Florida, were white men. Burning was the fate of 4, 11 were hanged, 1 was shot, 2 were killed in race riot, and 1 was beaten to death. Only rape fiends have so far been burned at the stake.

A Very Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellomy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by R. C. Hardwick Price 50c.

SUMMER COLDS

Produce Chronic Catarrh.

Madame Isabella Ellen Baynes.

Madame Isabella Ellen Baynes, Life Governor Grand Lodge of Free Masons of England, in a letter from Hotel Massena, Chicago, Ill., says:

"This summer while traveling I contracted a most persistent and annoying cold. My head ached, my eyes and nose seemed constantly running, my lungs were sore and I lost my appetite, health and good spirits. Doctors prescribed for me all manner of pills and powders, but all to no purpose."

"I advised with a druggist and he spoke so highly of a medicine called Peruna, that he induced me to try my first bottle of patent medicine. However, it proved such a help to me that I soon purchased another bottle and kept on until I was entirely well."

Madame Isabella Ellen Baynes.

Summer colds require prompt treatment. They are always grave, and sometimes dangerous. The promptness and surety with which Peruna acts in these cases has saved many lives. A large dose of Peruna should be taken at the first appearance of a cold in summer, followed by small and repeated doses. There is no other remedy that medical science can furnish, so reliable and quick in its action as Peruna.

Two Killed and Many Injured.
At Chicago, a trolley car crashed into a freight train and two passengers were killed and many seriously injured.

Heartburn.
When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, heartburn is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation.

Lightning Struck Church.
Lightning struck a church in Nicholas county and several persons were injured in the panic which followed.

Repulsive Features.
Blackheads, pimples, greasy faces and muddy complexions, which are so common among women, especially girls at a certain age, develop beauty, disfiguring and making repulsive, features which would otherwise appear attractive and refined, indicate that the liver is out of order.

Killed on Tug River.
On Tug River, eighteen miles from Louisville, Jack Glickerson was shot and killed by Lys Fitzpatrick.

Symptoms.
If you suffer from sick headache, palpitation of the heart, heartburn, costiveness, flatulency, sour stomach or bad taste in the mouth, you have stomach and liver trouble.

CREEDULITY OF THE HINDOO.

Sample of the Beliefs as Which He Occasionally Labors.

Here is a remarkable instance of the credulity of the Hindoo and the kind of delusions which he occasionally suffers, says London Truth. The writer is described as a Hindu gentleman of standing and reputation, and this extract is taken from a letter written to a gentleman in England:

"We are having awfully serious news circulated in the paper here. Extracts purported to be from the Morning Leader of London and La Jolla, Guatemala of Spain impress us that the emperor on the coronation day was dangerously ill and was never really crowned, for the ministers caused him to be personated by a beggar of Whitechapel. We are really very concerned to hear it, and we firmly believe the news to be a false creation, but wonder why the government is still inactive in regard to taking any steps to punish the author of so foul a calumny."

The gentleman who sends me the above extract gives me other quaint examples of the amusing fictions which gained currency among the natives of India. The bigger and the more preposterous the lie, he says, the more readily it is believed. When the jubilee bridge over the Hooghly was being built, the story got about that the government required a thousand heads of natives for the foundation of the bridge, and had given orders that all natives walking over the median after dark were to be seized and taken to the Sultan Khana (the native name for the Masonic lodge), where their heads were to be cut off for use in the uncanny engineering operation. The natives, it is said, were afraid to walk in that direction after dark for this reason.

Again, at the time of the last Indian frontier war, a fat Babu clerk disappeared from one of the government offices and could not be found. It was firmly believed, says my correspondent, by his fellow clerks and neighbors, that he had been seized by order of the government, to be made into ointment for the benefit of the wounded soldiers. Happily, the fat Babu turned up again safe and sound, so no serious consequences resulted from this delusion. If an idea like this can be seriously accepted, as my informant says it was, by the class of natives who pass examinations and hold public appointments, nothing that may find acceptance with the "lower orders" can be wondered at.

HINDU SUPERSTITIONS.
Some of the Ridiculous Things That Interfere with Progress.

A resident of Dharmapuri, writing on the subject of Hindu superstitions, says the Madras Mail, says that a married woman, a dancing girl, a mirror and an axe—the most neglected of the Indian domestic animals—are also among the first objects of good omen which a Hindu should meet as soon as he wakes from his sleep. A Hindu does not stir out of his house on any errand, not only during the rakshakam—an hour and a half a day—but also some time before it. Some do not do any work during gulakalam as well—another one hour and a half a day. The correspondent does not mention that in more advanced countries some people make rakakalam and gulakalam last a great deal longer. Besides these there are natchakrams (etc.), of which there are 26, each of which occurs every day. A particular natchakram on a particular day is either good or bad. At times an orthodox Hindu will not have a "good" day even in a fortnight. Even sneezing is inauspicious. Instances are not rare in which men are prevented from attending their office by snoring sneezing. The sneezing of a male and a female crowd together, and the sneezing of a female crowd together, is considered most lucky. A Hindu will never feed a guest for the first time on Sundays, Tuesdays or Thursdays—these days are supposed to bring unity between the host and the guest. A Hindu doctor will never administer medicines to his patient, even if he is very dangerously ill, for the first time on any day other than Sunday or Thursday. It is also laid down that a Hindu should never sleep with his head toward the south—the direction in which yama, the god of death, is supposed to live. East and west are always preferred.

A LUDICROUS SITUATION.

Real Estate Agent and Lady on Voluntary Exhibition.

"The lad for nature stories, especially entertaining sketches of animals and plant life, is interesting in more ways than one," observed a man who had been playing golf for over an hour with his usual auditor from an easy chair on the club porch, according to the Washington Star.

"I should imagine it was extremely interesting," said his companion, who had got us far on with his game of golf as to have his flannels on, "especially to the lucky dog whose book had happened to strike the popular fancy."

"That is one view of it," was the response, "even if it is limited to a very few individuals. What gaverise to this train of thought was a recent visit I made to the Zoo. As I passed along in front of the cages with the rest of the curious visitors and gazed at the animals as they ate, or rested, or were trying to get some exercise I wondered what it was that the animals that were on the outside of the bars of their cages. Now that we are taught, in spite of the protest of John Burroughs, that animals have a wide range of sensibilities and minds, capable of reason, it, of course, follows that they are not insensible of their situation in being on public exhibition."

"Human beings, unless they are of the dune museum variety, do not care for that sort of publicity. Sometimes it is forced upon them, as happened not long ago to a man I know who is in the real-estate business. He was showing a house that he had for rent to a lady, and in the course of the inspection tour they came to a conservatory, which was a tiny place, with the air facing the street made entirely of glass. They both stepped inside, and were looking about, when the door shut with a bang and they discovered to their consternation that it had a spring lock, which could only be opened from the other side. The situation was a ludicrous one, as it now appears, but it did not seem so very funny at the time to be imprisoned in such close quarters in full view of the public street. For a time they were at a loss what to do, as there was no one in the house and the glass was set in immovable sashes. However, the upper portion of the door was of glass, and it was the work of only a minute for the man to smash the glass and reach his hand through the opening and unlock the door."

"Rather scanty material for an autobiography of animal life in captivity," drily observed the man in flannels, as he reached for his golf sticks and started for the links, "but no doubt one will be written."

A SPEECH WITHOUT WORDS.

Mute Reply of a Massachusetts Congressman to a Wordy Assault.

Francis E. Leupp says that probably the shortest speech ever delivered in congress was made by "Ben" Butler, of Massachusetts. An Ohio member had fallen afoot of him one day and poured upon him a torrent of abuse which would have excited general indignation but for an unconsciously ridiculous gesture with which the orator accompanied almost every alternate sentence; this rendered the disgust of his hearers with him. He would raise his arms just as much above his head as possible and then wring his hands as if he was making a delirious attempt to wring them off. Butler sat through the speech with his eyes half closed, not moving a muscle. He rose when his assailant finished and stood calmly in the aisle. After a minute of silence he began: "Mr. Speaker!" Another impressive pause, and expectancy reached nearly the bursting point. Suddenly raising his arms, Butler reproduced exactly the awful gestures of the Ohio congressman. Then his arms fell to his sides, and for another minute he stood silent.

"That is all, Mr. Speaker," he said finally, and sat down. "I wanted to answer of the gentleman from Ohio."

FLAGRANT FRAUDS.

Sworn Testimony of Election Officers and Others.

The Affidavits Upon Which the Democratic District Committee Disregarded Fraudulent Votes.

In order that the Democrats of the Third judicial district may understand the true nature of the frauds in the county, by which Judge Bush was deprived of his legal rights in at least three precincts, we present for the first time the affidavits of election officers and others, who witnessed the high backed proceedings, which Judge Cook's followers are asking the committee and the people to approve. The polls were kept open until five o'clock, after the law had been read to the officers and a demand made that it be observed. Voters were boosted into open windows and allowed to vote after the polls were closed. Returns not certified to were fixed up to meet the requirements and ballot boxes were opened in advance of the time fixed by law.

The testimony given below is under oath and speaks for itself. No fair minded man can read it and not be convinced that the Trigg county frauds should not be tolerated a moment. If such things had been done in a general election, Judge Cook would have instructed his first grand jury to indict the guilty parties. Read the record:

SHERIFF OF SOUTH CADIZ TESTIFIES.

The affiant, Ottaway Tart, says that he was the sheriff of the election at the primary election in the South Cadiz precinct on the 9th day of May, 1903, to nominate Democratic candidates for circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney in the Third judicial district of Kentucky.

We were furnished a ballot box with only one lock and only one key to it.

He further states that I had no watch or time piece with me on the 9th day of May, 1903, and that I did not know what time it was when the election was held. He states that Judge Robert Crenshaw came to the voting place, and told the officers holding the election that he had been appointed inspector to help count the vote, and that it was then past four o'clock, and time for the polls to close. But the judges of the election for said precinct refused to close the polls, then Judge Crenshaw read the law in regard to closing the polls.

John W. Kelly then came in and said that if they closed the polls then that 20 voters would be cut out of voting, and insisted on keeping the polls open longer. Said judges did keep the polls open for some time thereafter and until all persons who wanted to vote had an opportunity of voting. I think there were at least 20 or more votes cast after the polls were closed. Judge Crenshaw came in and tried to get the officers to close the polls but they refused to do so. The polls had been closed for half an hour before Judge Crenshaw came in and requested the officers to close the polls, I suppose at the rate of about one a minute. After the polls were closed myself and the judges gave up the box to Mr. John G. Jefferson at his store to be kept by him, and on Monday following, by direction of J. F. Ladd, the county chairman of the Democratic county committee, in company with one of the judges delivered the ballot box and the key to same to Mr. J. F. Ladd, the county chairman.

I, Ottaway Tart, say that I believe the statements in the foregoing affidavit are true.

SOUTH CADIZ VOTED TILL NEARLY 5 O'CLOCK.

The affiant, I. B. Askew, says that he is a Democrat, and has been voting the Democratic ticket for the last 45 years. I reside in the city of Cadiz, and vote in the South Cadiz district. I was present on the 9th day of May, 1903, in the hall of the court house in Cadiz and around the grand jury room for one and one-half hours, in the afternoon, while the vote was being taken, and saw a crowd of persons standing around the door where the voters were seeking admission to the room to vote. I was present after 4 o'clock and saw Major Garrett, J. E. Edwards and Judge J. D. Shaw take out their watches and state that it was then after 4 o'clock and the polls ought to be closed. About ten minutes after 4 o'clock, according to the time as given by the above enumerated gentlemen, I saw Judge Crenshaw crowd his way by the persons crowding around the grand jury room door and enter the room where the vote was being taken. I could not tell what was said or done, but he came out, a short time after going in, and the voting continued until within a few minutes to 5 o'clock. In my judgment and to the best of my belief there were not less than 25 votes cast after 4 o'clock in the South Cadiz district, judging from the number of persons I saw going in and coming out of the room where the vote was being held.

Said I. B. Askew says that he believes the statements in the foregoing are true.

SOUTH CADIZ OPEN TILL 4:55 HOURS THIS WINTER.

The affiant, M. S. Thompson, stated that he is a legal resident and voter in the South Cadiz precinct in the city of Cadiz, county of Trigg, state of Kentucky, and that he voted and was a legal voter in the primary held by the Democratic party on the 9th day of May, 1903, for the purpose of nominating candidates in the Third judicial district of Kentucky to make the race on the Democratic ticket, at the November election, 1903, for the offices of circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney.

He states that he was standing in front of the polls in said precinct at the hour of four o'clock, and that he remarked that it was time to close the polls, but that the polls did not close until 5 minutes of 5 o'clock p. m., and he states that at least 25 or 30 voters entered said polls and voted after 4 o'clock, the time the polls should have closed.

He states that a few minutes after 4 o'clock he saw Judge Robt. Crenshaw go into the polls. He states that he knows what time it was because he examined his watch and examined a half-dozen watches around him and that Henry Lawrence had the slowest time of any one present and his watch showed 5 minutes of 5 o'clock when the polls closed.

SHERIFF AT NORTH CADIZ SAYS VOTES WERE ADMITTED AFTER POLLS CLOSED.

The affiant, W. H. Timmons, states that he is a resident and voter in the North Cadiz voting precinct, in the town of Cadiz, county of Trigg and state of Kentucky, and that he was the sheriff of the Democratic primary held in said precinct on May 9th, 1903, under the call of the Democratic judicial committee for the Third judicial district of Kentucky, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the offices of circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney for said district. He states that they opened the polls about 7 o'clock, and kept them open until a few minutes after four o'clock, when I found out what time it was and demanded of the judges that the polls be closed, but they claimed that they were still voting at the South Cadiz precinct. I shut the door on my way and announced that the polls were closed, but the judges allowed the voters to come in the window and a dozen or more votes were cast after four o'clock. The box had but one lock and key and this box and key was delivered to J. Frank Ladd, chairman of the Trigg Democratic county committee on Monday, May 11th, 1903, by the judges of said election. I demanded the key of Ladd but he refused to give it to me.

WALLONIA RETURNS NOT CERTIFIED. The affiant, Robert Crenshaw, says that at the request of Mr. J. Frank Ladd, chairman of the Democratic county committee of Trigg county, that he was present on Monday, the 9th day of May, 1903, when he Ladd opened the ballot box from the Wallonia precinct and witnessed the examination of the returns. And there was no certificate of the vote in the judicial race in the ballot box. That afterwards the officers from said district met for the purpose of certifying from memory of the result in said election between the commonwealth's attorneys and circuit judges. I further certify that I heard two of the officers in said district say that they did not close the polls in said Wallonia precinct till about one quarter of an hour after 5 o'clock.

I further certify that I had been requested to act as canvasser in the South Cadiz precinct, and requested to aid in counting the vote of said district. And that I was in the hall of the court room, and around the court house for an hour or more before 4 o'clock, and about ten minutes after 4 o'clock, according to the time pieces of a number of gentlemen standing around the court room, I went into the grand jury room where the vote was then being cast, told the officers that it was after 4 o'clock, and then the law, and requested them to close the polls, and read to them the syllabus of a decision of the court of appeals, the import of which was that no votes cast after 4 o'clock could be counted, and if they did not want the vote of the precinct thrown out, they ought to stop. When John W. Kelly came in and objected, said that a certain candidate, naming him, would lose 25 or 30 votes if they closed then, they kept on voting till near 5 o'clock. I had no means of knowing the number of persons who voted after 4 o'clock, but I think not less than 20 or 25. The polls were crowded from 3 o'clock till they closed.
